CONSUMPTION.

The early symptoms of this disease are a sense of weariness upon little exertion, and disposition to remain passive and idle; a peculiar sensitiveness of the effects of cold, and a shortness of breath upon moving quickly or ascending a hill or stairs, a slight hacking cough with or without expectoration, flying pains throughout the chest or back or under the shoulder-blades; the symptoms are worse towards or during the night; slight fever in the afternoon, cold feet and hands, and in many cases blue lividity of the lips and roots of the finger nails. The more advanced symptoms are wasting of flesh, diarrhœa, chills and fever, night sweats, expectoration of yellow pus from the ulcers or cavities in the lungs, with or without a depression of the chest, increasing weakness, and at last a closing up of the air passages of the lungs, causing strangulation or suffocation of the patient for want of power to expectorate the mucus from the lungs. Heretofore the treatment of consumption has been very unsatisfactory, both to physicians and their patients, but luckily, since the discovery of the Aerean system of practice, a few years ago, thousands of cases have been completely cured, where, had it not been for this system of practice, utter failure to combat the evils of the disease would have continued up to the present time. The system of Medicated Inhalation is the only means by which these diseases can be cured. By this means we are enabled to dissolve the hardened mucus in the lungs, ease the cough, facilitate expectoration, contract and heal ulcers and cavities after all hope of cure by ordinary methods is passed. CONSULTATION FREE. Those who desire to consult with me in regard to their cases had better call personally for an examination, but if impossible to do so, may write for a list of Questions and Medical Treatise. Address M. HILTON WILLIAMS, M. D., 275 North Main street, Los Angeles, Cal. Office hours from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.; Sundays from 3 to 4 p. m. Professional visits before and after office hours. no19 d&w

The Times.

Office—Temple, Main and New High.

CONCERNING "those resolutions," Mr. Secretary Guinn (who is, by the way, not a member of the Republican County Central Committee) rises to an explanation, which he gives to the world through the columns of the Evening Express of yesterday. With an assurance which approximates the monumental in its adamantine cheekiness, he undertakes to maintain the preposterous claim that the alleged meeting in question was "regularly called," and that the resolutions passed thereat reflected the sentiments of the County Central Committee, and consequently of the entire body of Republicans of Los Angeles county!

This is a piece of very sublime assurance. The claim has no basis of fact to rest upon. The action taken was a fraud, in that it assumed to be the action of the County Central Committee, a body of sixty or seventy members, when, in fact, it was not even the action of the executive committee of that body, composed of only nine members, because there was actually no bona fide quorum present, Mr. Guinn's assertion to the contrary notwithstanding. This executive committee is not "virtually the County Central Committee," as Mr. Guinn comprehensively claims, and would have no right, even had a bona fide quorum been present, to call itself the "County Central Committee," which it did in "them resolutions." It was an arctic attempt to deceive our Assemblymen, which was fortunately defeated p. d. q.

The card-writing Secretary, who, when he opens his mouth, has such a facility for inserting his hoof into it, "wants to know, you know," about that other "resolution" which he alleges the TIMES declared was sent to Sacramento, more nearly representing the views of the people on the Senatorship. The TIMES will inform Mr. Guinn that it never said any other "resolution" was adopted and sent. It did say a dispatch was sent. That dispatch bore the signatures of Republican citizens, who had a right to send such a dispatch, but who did not assume to speak for the Committee, but only for themselves. "Who was authorized to send it?" he asks. The signers. "And what does it amount to?" Quien sabe It seems to have had the effect, however, of enlightening our Representatives to the essential fact that there had been no meeting of the County Central Committee, which was the object sought. But everybody now knows that the alleged resolution telegraphed by the alleged majority of the executive committee amounted to nothing, so far as its effect upon our Assemblymen was concerned. They thought it was a forgery, and we know it was a fraud.

THE PRESS GANG.

Editorial Toils in the Far Wild West

Our assistant struck for higher pay this week, and when we refused his demand he left us. Consequently we were ourselves obliged to rustle around for news with our game leg, and we are nearly broke up. But we feel bully because the paper was dalayed only one day, and are ready to try it again. We will receive news all this week at Al. Blodgett's saloon.—[Butte City, Montana, Record.

REPORTORIAL WORK IN JAPAN.

The Japan newspapers give no details of the recent destructive typhoon in Yokohama. They simply said: "The typhoon wiped out the town." The Japanese reporters work by the day. If they had been on piece work they would have gone back a few thousand years to the time the town was founded, and given a history of the place up to the day it was destroyed.—[Norristown Herald.

HURRY UP WITH THAT WOOD.

Look here! You wood subscribers! Do you think this office can get along without fire until Christmas? This has been a beautiful autumn, but a chilling blast might strike us next week, and we would be in a pretty fix if we relied on the promises of some men in regard to firewood.—[Carrollton (Mo.) Journal.

CLAY TO KEEP THE WINTER'S WIND AWAY.

We will not issue a paper next week. The office needs battening up for the winter. Besides we have now lived more than a year within seventeen miles of our father's home and have not yet found time to go there, and now go there we must.—[Vernon, Mich., Inter-Lake.

An Ex-Vice-President.

From the Buffalo Express.]

Ex-Vice-President William A. Wheeler is living at his old home in Malone, Franklin county. He is wifeless, childless and sleepless, and said to be fast nearing his end. It is customary to speak of Mr. Wheeler as an "accident, and as one of the great obscure," but he was a man among men in his time, and his nomination to the Vice-Presidency was but the crowning of a well-rounded career. He had been district attorney, State Senator, and President of the State Agricultural Convention, and in Congress was chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means and a power in debate whenever he could be prevailed upon to speak. Like all famous fishermen, he was of a contemplative turn of mind, which may account for his preference for the shades. He is but another instance of a statesman lost in a Vice-President.

A BATTLE IN EGYPT.

The British Troops Attacked by El Mahdi's Forces.

THE ARABS DEFEATED WITH HEAVY LOSS.

Graphic Narratives of the Battle in the Desert—Complete Success of the English—Other Foreign News.

Associated Press Dispatches to The Times.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—It is officially reported that serious fighting has occurred in Egypt and the result is satisfactory to Lord Wolseley. The battle occurred near Metemenh. An army of 10,000 rebels attacked the square in which the British forces were advancing several times, but was compelled eventually to retire. The rebels lost 800 killed and 1800 wounded. The English lost 65. Among the British who fell was Lieutenant-Colonel Burnaby, who made the famous ride to Khiva.

LATER PARTICULARS.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—A dispatch has been received at the War Office from General Wolseley, dated Korti, January 21, at 3 p. m., which reads substantially as follows:

"General Stewart has had a heavy engagement with a portion of the Mahdi's forces near Abu Klea Wells, about twenty-three miles this side of Metemenh. The rebels had collected from Berber, Metemenh and Omduraman. This last place, I regret to say, the prisoners report was recently captured by the Mahdi and thus the men were released from there to fight General Stewart. On the afternoon of January 16, General Stewart's cavalry reported that the enemy were in position some few miles this side of the wells. It was too late in the day to allow an advance and successful encounter. General Stewart bivouacked where he was for the night. The enemy kept up a harmless fire all night and erected works on General Stewart's right flank. Saturday, General Stewart endeavored to draw the enemy on to make an attack, but the rebels hesitated. In consequence General Stewart left all his impedimenta, also the camels with the Guards, the Sussex regiment and some mounted infantry, and moved forward, keeping his forces in the form of a square. All the men were on foot. The British army passed around the enemy's flank, forcing them to make an attack or be subject to an enfilading fire. The enemy wheeled to the left and made a well-organized charge under a withering fire from our men. The square was unfortunately penetrated about its left rear, where a heavy cavalry and a camel regiment were in possession, by sheer weight of numbers. The admirable steadiness of our men enabled them to maintain a hand-to-hand fight with the opposing force, while severe punishment was being inflicted upon the enemy by all the othe portions of the square. The enemy were finally driven back under a heavy fire from all sides. The Nineteenth Hussars then pushed forward to the wells, which were in our possession by 5 o'clock in the evening. The enemy left not less than 800 slain around the works. The prisoners taken while the enemy were retiring report the number of the enemy's wounded quite exceptional. One immediate effect of the battle is that many rebels are submitting. It was necessary for the army to remain at the wells for some hours to obtain water. As soon as practicable the intention was to push on with all expedition to Metemenh. The English wounded are doing well.

[Signed] GENERAL WOLSELEY.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—Reuter's Telegraph Company has a dispatch dated near Abou Klea Wells, Saturday noon, which gives the following account of the engagement: When the Hussar scouts returned yesterday announcing that the rebels held the wells, the British forces promptly formed in mass column and advanced to the wells. The Guards marched at the left of the column, the heavy corps in the centre and the mounted infantry at the right. The column halted within three miles of the wells, but the rebels showed no signs of moving. The British troops set to felling trees and clearing away the grass in front of the column.

An abattis was formed around the baggage and a stone breastwork, with a frontage of 150 yards created as an additional protection. In the afternoon the enemy's camp was sighted four miles from us. It comprised numerous tents and appeared to be fairly well fortified. Meanwhile two groups of rebels were watching us from the high hills on the left front. At 6 o'clock in the evening the enemy fired a few stray shots and the British replied with several shells. The enemy continued firing throughout Friday night, causing only one slight casualty. Saturday forenoon the enemy commenced advancing in two divisions in echelon, each numbering some 5000 men, beating drums and waving flags. Many of them were armed with rifles. The enemy occasionally halted as if trying to discover the British formation. Meanwhile the British were steadily preparing for the reception of the rebels. They formed a square, the artillery being placed in the center, and advanced to meet the overwhelming force of the enemy who had occupied favorable ground, showing great knowledge of the art of war. They drew us to difficult positions for operations, when by a cleverly executed movement they almost disappeared from view, leaving only their standards visible. Suddenly a large body of rebels appeared and furiously charged upon the front of the British square. The British replied with a deadly fire which the rebels were unable to withstand. They then turned and attacked the left rear of the square. The heavy troops, borne down by the onslaught, broke their formation for a few moments, but quickly rallied. A hand-to-hand fight ensued. The rebels penetrated the ranks but were subjected to a heavy flank fire and were finally driven back. General Stewart had a narrow escape, his horse being killed under him. It is reported that the rebels are in force at Metemneh.

THE COMMANDER'S STATEMENT.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—General Stewart concludes his report of the battle fought near Metemneh as follows: "It has been my duty to command a force from which exceptional work, exceptional hardship and exceptional fighting have been called for. It would be impossible to adequately describe the admirable support given me by every officer and man of the force. I regret to say that our loss was severe, but our success has been so complete that it may dishearten the enemy to such an extent that all their future fighting may be of a less obstinate character." General Wolseley says: "General Stewart's operations have been most creditable to him as a commander, and the nation has every reason to be proud of the gallantry and splendid spirit of Her Majesty's soldiers on this occasion. Our losses were, nine commissioned officers killed, and nine wounded, and 65 non-commissioned officers and men killed and 85 wounded. General Stewart's force consists of about 1500 men, all told."

THE BRITISH LOSSES.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—Besides Colonel Barnaby the following were killed: Major Carmichel, Fifth Lancers; Major Asherton, Fifth Dragoons; Major Gough, Royal Dragoons; Captain Darley and Lieutenant Law, Fourth Dragoons; Lieutenant Wolfe, Scotts Greys. Lieutenants Pigott and DeLisle, Naval Brigade; Lord St. Vincent and Lord Airlie were wounded.

HOW THE ARABS FOUGHT.

LONDON, January 21.—The battle between General Stewart's troops and the Arabs was fought at a point in the Passanyeh desert twenty-three miles from Metemeneh, and near the caravan station of Stebacas. General Stewart's force consisted of about 1500 effective men. On the approach of the Arabs, who were estimated to number 8,000 to 10,000, General Stewart formed his troops in a hollow square, with field-pieces atthe corners, invalids and provisions in the center. The Arabs made their attack in a tumultuous rush, directed principally against the side of the square held by the Hussars. This side of the square was broken at one time during the fight. The officers attribute this disaster to the unruly conduct of the camels, which got powder-burned and became uncontrollable. The line was immediately re-formed, and the discipline of the men was splendid. Throughout the action the steady and deadly fire was kept up by the Hussars and mounted infantry, while the artillery maintained an enfilading fire which piled the dead Arabs up in heaps. The space in front of the British right flank was a veritable slaughter pen, and when the Arabs were finally repulsed they left 800 of their number dead upon the field. The number of their wounded able to march or be carried from the field is estimated at 2000. Most of the casualties on the British side occurred during the break in the line of the Hussars. The British took their own and the Arabs' wounded to the well. Most of the wounded are reported doing well. General Stewart with the remainder of his troops is progressing toward Metemenh. During the night pending the action, the Arabs threw up small earthworks, intended to intercept General Stewart's march, but they were captured and destroyed by a detachment of English troops.

COMMENTS OF THE LONDON PRESS.

LONDON, Jan. 22, 4 a. m.—All the morning papers contain columns of description and comments regarding General Stewart's battle. The papers unanimously extol in glowing terms the heroism of the troops and unite in eulogising Colonel Barnaby, who is described as dying like a true British "bull-dog," with his right hand clinched in death about the throat of the Arab whose spear was thrust through the Colonel's neck.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—The papers this morning consider General Stewart's hurried advance to Metemneh indicates further heavy fighting, and they fear the loss of Onedurman will enable the Mahdi to prevent the passage of Gordon's steamers, but all admit that the bravery of the English argues well for the ultimate success of the expedition.

LATEST FROM THE FIELD OF ACTION.

ABU KREA, Jan. 17 (via London, Jan. 22).—A British column is just starting on for Metemenh. The wounded will be left here under a strong guard.

THE OKLAHOMA BOOMERS.

Stringent Orders From the War Department for Their Removal.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The following are the official instructions sent from the War Department to General Augur yesterday regarding the course to be pursued with the Oklahoma invaders:

"Brigadier-General Augur, Fort Leavenworth, Kas:—In accordance with the instructions from the Secretary of War, the Lieutenant-General directs you to be informed that the President's order for the removal from the Indian Territory of the intruders thereon is to be enforced. It is to be hoped that it may be done without armed conflict, but the responsibility for any bloodshed must rest upon those who do not accept the warning of the proclamation of the President of July 1, 1884, and attempt with arms to resist the troops ordered to compel their removal. In order that the mischievous influence of the leaders of the present intrusion to incite a conflict may be reduced as much as possible, the military force should be increased, so that all intruders may see the hopelessness of resistance. The Lieutenant-General therefore directs that you will immediately reinforce Colonel Hatch with the remaining companies of the Ninth Cavalry, and also send him reinforcements for the Tenth, Twentieth and Twenty-second Infantry, until the force he has now on hand shall be increased by 800 additional men. Acknowledge receipt.

Letters and telegrams were read from friends wishing success to the movement and offering congratulations on the marked advance in public opinion in respect to woman suffrage. Resolutions were read and discussed, particularly one denouncing the religious dogmas teaching that "woman was an afterthought in creation, her sex a misfortune, marriage a condition of subordination and matrimony a curse, as contrary to the law of God and the precepts of Christ," and inviting the co-operation of religious teachers in securing "recognition of the cardinal point of our creed, that in true religion there is neither male nor female, neither bond nor free, but all are one." The discussion of this resolution was long and spirited, and without action it went over for further argument to-morrow. The evening session was devoted to speech-making.

GENERAL WASHINGTON NEWS.

A Bill to Check Monopoly in Land by Aliens.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Representative Oates, of the Committee on Public Lands, has prepared a report on the bill to prohibit aliens and foreigners from acquiring or owning lands within the United States, which the Committee has reported to the House with a recommendation that it pass. Oates says: "Your Committee ascertained with reasonable certainty that certain noblemen in Europe, principally Englishmen, have acquired and now own in the aggregate about 21,000,000 acres of land within the United States. We have not sufficient information to state the quantity owned by untitled aliens. This alien, non-resident ownership will, in the course of time, lead to a system of landlordism incompatible with the best interests and free instutions of the United States. The foundation for such a system is being laid broadly in the Western States and Territories. A considerable number of immigrants annually arriving in this country are to become tenants and herdsmen on the vast possessions of these foreign Lords, under contracts made and entered into before they sail for our shores. The policy of the government heretofore toward aliens has been characterized by great liberality, and the different States, each acting for itself have gone still further upon the idea of a rapid increase in population and wealth and by legislation have conferred upon aliens rights far beyond the stipulations of the common law. The bill herewith is reported properly as a part of the foreign policy of this country, to operate only prospectively, and therefore not harshly, to prevent absolutely citizens or subjects of other nations, so long as they adhere to and retain their allegiance to other powers from acquiring ownership in American soil within the jurisdiction of the United States. We maintain that American soil should be owned exclusively by American citizens. Perhaps objection may be made to the bill on the ground that the tendency will be to drive foreign capital from this country. If it were, we are not quite sure that any permanent harm would result therefrom to any one on this continent. Mortgages and land bonds held by aliens would not be materially impaired. They are deeds and can be foreclosed in default of payment by alien holders as well as by citizens. Neither can according to law buy at their own sale, because of the conflict of interest with duty, unless it is so stipulated in the contract, and this being known, can have no other effect upon future foreign investors in this class of securities than to make them a little more careful and not to rely upon the prospect of ultimate ownership in land mortgages.

WRANGLING LAW-MAKERS.

The Illinois Legislature Indulges in a Free Fight.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 21.—At 10:40 p. m., Speaker Hines resigned, saying that it seemed that the Democrats did not want him and it was was very evident the Republicans didn't want him, and he would therefore have to resume his old position as an Independent party. As soon as he laid down the gavel there was a free fight for its possession. Representative Pike, of Bloomington, a six-and-a-half-foot Republican, rushed forward and seized the insignia of authority, but no sooner had he grasped it than McAleney, of Carlinsville, and Campbell, of McLeansboro, collared the giant and hurled him from the stand, while Baker, of Sullivan, wrenched the gavel from his hand. For five minutes there was pandemonium. At last, however, a motion, made by Messrs. Crafts and McNally, Democrats of Chicago, that Mr. Cronkrite, Democrat, of Stephenson, be made temporary Speaker, which was put in a turmoil, was carried unanimously. Mr. Cronkrite took the chair, and called the House to order, and, on motion, the House adjourned until 10 o'clock to-morrow morning. Previous to adjournment Mr. Fuller (Republican) of Chicago, the Republican candidate for Speaker, in order to satisfy his side, after Cronkrite took the chair, moved that that gentleman be temporary Speaker, which motion was carried unanimously. This ends the ten days' fight, in which Haines, the temporary Chairman, has acted the role of usurper, and places the Democrats in possession of the chair. Logan is here watching his interests.

Cleveland's Cabinet.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21.—The Chronicle's Washington special says: A near friend of President-elect Cleveland, who holds an important office under Cleveland's commission, says: "There is but one thing about Cleveland's Cabinet that has been definitely settled. The entire number will be selected from those States that cast their electoral votes for him. I know this, because he has said as much to me. Another thing Mr. Cleveland don't intend to do, is to transfer State political rows to Washington. This means that Ohio will not be offered a prominent position. There are only two places that Judge Thurman could be offered—the Supreme Bench and a Cabinet position. The first he is too old to take, and the other he cannot get, for it would not be a pleasant thing to have the Ohio fight transferred to the Cabinet.

The Grant-Ward Case.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—In the Chaffee-Ward-Grant litigation the cross-examination of Grant took up the greater part of the afternoon. Witness said that as soon as he had heard of the failure of the firm of Grant & Ward he immediately set about making a transfer of all his property to Mr. Chaffee, as it was wholly through his (Grant's) influence that Chaffee was induced to invest money with the firm. Among this property was tenement house property and a stable in this city, and 20,000 shares of mining stock. Part of this property was mortgaged.

THE PATTON-HUNTINGTON CASE.

The Railway Magnate Tells a Variety of Things on the Witness Stand.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—The Patton-Huntington suit was continued to-day and the cross-examination of Huntington was resumed. He said he never ordered the books of the Contract and Finance Company to be burned, nor did he believe he had heard that the books were burned. His profits out of the Central Pacific Railroad were less than $5,000,000. Stewart, Patton, Agnew and Aspinwall had been friends of witness and he thought he would buy their stock and give them a good price for it. He wanted to fix it so they could not lose any money. He put a little money into his banking account from the profits of the Central Pacific and the shares of the Contract and Finance Company.

On redirect examination, witness said that during the past fifteen years he had been engaged in ten separate enterprises. He had railroads to build and operate, steamship companies to control, and also his hardware and metal trade. He had subordinates under him, but did not look into all the details. His theory in business was to trust a man all in all or not at all. He never got as much for the stock he purchased from plaintiffs as he paid for it. It was a losing operation. He did not know much about bookkeeping. He carried his bookkeeping in a high hat for a good many years. He was not an easy writer. When he went to school he had the credit of being the poorest writer there. He would rather be compelled to saw wood than write, and he never wrote unless he was compelled to do it. On re-direct cross-examination, Huntington said he had never paid any money directly into the Contract and Finance Company. He was an officer of the Central Pacific, and was selling certificates and sending money to Mrs. Hopkins. The railroad cost over $100,000 per mile. The Contract and Finance Company paid the debt. It could not have got money unless it was paid by the stockholders. He could not say if the Central Pacific paid in anything. This concluded Mr. Huntington's testimony.

ANOTHER CHOLERA SCARE.

Sensational Reports of the Appearance of the Scourge in St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 21.—A sensational account of two deaths here last Sunday, ascribed to cholera, was published this afternoon, but it is not creating any alarm or attracting any particular attention. The facts of the case seem to be that Wolff Pickner, a Russian Jew, a pedler by occupation, living at 608 Washington street, was taken sick last Sunday morning with symptoms resembling those of cholera. He was removed to the City Hospital, where he died, Dr. Dean, the hospital physician, assigning native cholera as the cause of his death. As a simple precautionary measure the man's personal effects were destroyed, and the room he had occupied fumigated. Pickner came here from New Orleans about ten days ago and it is supposed he went to that city from New York, where, it is said, he has a family, but how long he has been in this country is not known. The other case was a colored man, George W. Evans, who died of what his attending physicians pronounced choleraic diarrhœa. He was fireman in the engine room of Shickle, Harrison & Company's ironworks and had been sick several days. There was nothing in his case to attract attention. The authorities seem disposed to ascertain who Pickner was and where he came from.

THE STATE CAPITAL.

The Democratic Caucus Rejects the Read-out Senators.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 21.—The Democrats of both Houses met in conference this afternoon to consider who should be admitted to the caucus. The admission of Senators Creighton and Drumm, who had voted for Knight, was debated, and it was agreed that they remain out of the caucus this evening until the meeting had resolved what action to take with respect to them. Twenty-nine Senators and Assemblymen attended the caucus. After discussion it was decided that Creighton and Drumm be admitted, and that the five read-out Senators be excluded. The caucus then adjourned until to-morrow evening, when balloting for the complimentary Senatorial vote will take place.

Death of a Niece of Blaine.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Jan. 21.—Sister Theresa, niece of James G. Blaine, died at St. Mary's Catholic Convent here, at 4 o'clock this morning. Fathers Comerford and O'Haran and many of her associates in religion were at her bed-side. The best medical science was powerless to stay the ravages of her disease, which she contracted while on a recent visit in Washington.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Jan. 21.—The secular name of Sister Theresa, who has just died, was Annie Walker, daughter of Major R. C. Walker and Elizabeth Blaine, sister of James G. Blaine. She was born in Brownsville, Pa. She finished a course of studies at St. Xavier Academy, Westmoreland county. She made her religious profession at St. Mary's convent in Pittsburg in 1869 and was 30 years of age. There will be a solemn mass of requiem in St. Mary's Cathedral on Friday.

Rugged Utterances of a Rugged Citizen.

HE SECONDS SOME MOTIONS.

To the Editor of the Times—SIR: We rise to second the wise recommendation in Mayor Spence's message favoring the improvement of all the leading roads to Los Angeles. In a city so largely patronized by visitors as yours is, you don't have to think twice to see how much more inviting to such visitors broad, hard, smooth, shaded drives are than the present apologies for roads. That we country people will gladly co-operate with the City Council and the Board of Supervisors we feel safe in pledging. And we congratulate the city on the choice of a Mayor with a grasp. Mr. Spence will not bore with a gimlet if he can find an auger.

And in this connection we also second the motion in to-day's TIMES in favor of a boulevard from the city to Pasadena and San Gabriel. A fine road to these places is the crying need of the day. A railroad we may have, and it is well, but a road for the masses in the loud demand. Who will move?

And now, while in a concurring mood, I feel moved to second the rugged utterances of the TIMES against the insolent claims of the monopolies. By no means anti-railroad or anti-capital, I have an inborn detestation of being owned, or pocketed, or used by anybody. And when the Great Monopoly proposes to pocket the Republican party of California, I propose to kick. And right here, on my own account, I protest against all the soft and easy assumptions that the Republicans will ever submit to the loading up with Governor Stanford, one of the monopoly kings, as an "Old Man of the Sea." We want none of him. D.

South Pasadena, January 16th.

At a college examination a professor asked: "Does my question embarrass you?" "Not at all, sir," replied the student. "Not at all. It is quite clear. It is the answer that bothers me."

ENLARGED SHEET.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 22, 1885.

THE immigration Society of San Luis Obispo is corresponding with a negro colony in Texas, who want to settle in California. The Santa Ana Standard makes the following kick against the move:

"If San Luis Obispo is that hard up for settlers she is a tough region, and the sooner a gentle earthquake takes her in the better, for it wouldn't be half as bad a calamity as a nigger colony. Santa Ana valley wants white men for settlers, and has no use for any kind of valley-tanned, copper-tinged or crow-colored savages from any country, and least of all does she want niggers."

The editor of the Standard appears to have never learned the truth, remarked by a distinguished statesman "before the wah," that no man who spells negro with two g's will ever be President of the United States. When Baker runs for that distinguished office, we mean to spring the deadly trap on him, and forthwith he will be as one who "nefer vas." He will be "gone" by an exceeding great majority, and our side will be ahead by a corresponding number of votes.

But speaking of the proposition in hand, we do not agree with our 'steemed nigger-hating cotemporary. We can imagine a far worse calamity to any country than the introduction into it of a colony of sober, industrious workers of the man-and-brother persuasion. This is a great big world, and California is a tolerably fair-sized slice of it. It takes all sorts of people to make a world and help in the great work of running the complicated machine which the Creator has placed in the hands of his 'prentice children to keep going. Among all the nations, tongues and tribes of the world the now unfettered colored man is entitled to a place—to an open field and a fair race—and even California has need of him, for the State presents a broad field for labor, in which there are still too few workers. Give the black citizen a chance, say we.

THE telegraph brings some outgivings, purporting to be semi-official, concerning Cleveland's intentions respecting the manufacture of a cabinet for himself. It is announced that he will select his advisers from "Cleveland States," and that he will not permit local party quarrels to be carried into his cabinet. These statements are plausible. But in making up a list of "Cleveland States," where will New York be placed? Is it in fact a Cleveland State? Or is it a Mugwump State, or a St. John State, or sort o' 'alf-an'-'alf? Even some of Mr. Cleveland's supporters doubt the true status of the Empire State. For instance, the Louisville Courier-Journal says: "The Lord of Hosts gave us Blaine, and threw in Burchard, and raised up St. John, and sent down the rain on election day—the devil contributed Gould and inspired Conkling—and so, among all hands, good Lord, good devil, we pulled through somehow, and here we are." New York is not mentioned here, but Br'er Watterson evidently had that State in mind when he wrote the above chuckling paragraph. Judge Thurman of Ohio, the ablest Democrat in the country, is to be ruled out on the plea that his introduction into Mr. Cleveland's cabinet will be equivalent to throwing a blazing Buckeye firebrand into the presidential council, since Thurman has a fight on hand with John McLean, Hoadly and that lot.

THE San Jose Times-Mercury was on the anxious seat during the entire Senatorial contest—on the very anxious seat. As the contest neared the end, the "T. M." bordered on the frantic in its appeals. Here is the tail "eend" of one of its eloquent tributes to the unsuccessful aspirant:

This man, so able, so capable, so courageous, is Aaron A. Sargent, indorsed with singular unanimity by the people and the Republican press of California. He has been tried—he is true. He has been tested, but not found wanting. He is not only a faithful friend, but a statesman.

Elect him, and thereby indorse his long and useful career as the champion of California.

Elect him, and thereby indorse the American foreign policy he put forward.

Elect him, and thereby rebuke the insolent, the malicious and the selfishly ambitious who are attempting to tear him down and tarnish his great name.

Elect Aaron A. Sargent to the United States Senate, which body he will adorn with his talents and statesmanship, and the Republican party of California, pleased with the promotion of its greatest leader, will rescue the State from the Democracy two years hence.

Read in the light of the result, the above borders on the ragged edge of the grotesque.

THE editor of the Santa Ana Standard, who is from Bourbon county, Kentucky, climbs up onto the head of an empty bar'l with the pungent odor of "mountain dew" lingering about it, and attempts to make a mash on some of his delinquent patrons, whom he addresses pleadingly as follows:

"Corn is money. We would like for some of our delinquent subscribers who have more corn than cash to bring us a few bushels."

Is the able editor on a still hunt? Is he a "moonshiner?"

GENERAL SHERIDAN has given the word for the cleaning out of the Oklahoma boomers. They will be cleaned out, and the enemies of gallant Phil. will have another opportunity to yell "Piegan massacre," and "Southern banditti."

THINK of it!—think of what has been going on in Congress in the year of grace 1885! Eulogizing Jeff. Davis and slighting General Grant! And it is only twenty years since the war!

THE San Jose Times-Mercury has learned, it says, that there are two thousand idle laborers in Los Angeles. We think that is stretching it a little.

FROM SACRAMENTO.

The Senatorial Fight an Hour Before the Battle.

WHATEVER YE DO, GET ONTO THE WINNER

A Neophyte Statesman—A Columbian Orator—Contested Election Cases Settled—Final Organization of the Senate—How Some of the Candidates Looked After Victory or Defeat.

[STAFF CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 20.—All quiet along the Sacramento, so far this week. Some of the principal factors—at least those who think they are factors—in the Senatorial fight transferred themselves to "The Bay" over Sunday, but all were back last night, and all wore smiling countenances and possessed self-satisfied manners. The Perkins party was the last to return, and the hilariousness shown caused general comment. This is a curious fight, and it would puzzle the brain of a Philadelphia lawyer to keep track of all the interests that are alleged to be involved in it. I have had several conversations with parties interested more or less, but the majority of them were at sea as much as myself, and I was prone to offer a little advice gratis to them. It was somewhat thus: "Vote ye for your choice, but let your choice be the winner." You see I do not believe in backing a "short horse," and whether the winner gets under the wire by a nose or a neck, I always want to be there. Apropos of this advice, I had a conversation last night with a gentleman who, as far as practical politics goes, cannot be discounted. There is no "hurrah" about him, and I am confident that he manages to gain his point in nine cases out of ten. He had just returned from San Francisco, and he volunteered the information that Stanford was certain to be the man, and that not more than three ballots would be had in caucus before this result would be reached. The caucus was to have been held on Wednesday night, but this morning a petition was circulated among the members and received the signatures of more than two-thirds, so the time of holding the caucus was changed to 7:30 o'clock this evening. As near as can be learned this change was caused by the Stanford men, aided by Perkins's followers. It is said the latter are now ready to fall in for Stanford after the first ballot, and there are some of Estee's supporters who will do the same thing. I am forced to the conclusion, after talking with half a dozen members who are either for Estee or Perkins as first choice, and who I can easily discern have no hope of their favorite winning, that the next Senator from California will be Leland Stanford. His partisans are enthusiastic and confident, while his "workers" are collected and cool, and never let an opportunity slip to bring over a recruit. It is hard to predict just how any delegation will vote, but it is quite likely that a majority of the Los Angeles delegation will drop on the side of the winner. My opinion is that Stanford will win "hands down," and that the caucus will only be a repetition of the contest for Speaker, where Parks had a walk-over from the start, and his friends made the other fellows believe they were in the race just for the sake of adding spice and interest to the affair.

SPEAKER PARKS'S RULING.

Observation has taught me that it is always safe to follow an old parliamentarian's ruling, especially when he is backed up by precedents. But Mr. Jordan, of Alameda, took issue with the ruling recently made by Speaker Parks that the Senate is a continuous body, and on Saturday last he introduced a resolution looking to the withdrawal and reintroduction of all bills that had been introduced in the House. He desired immediate action—neophytes in legislation generally do—but the point was made that owing to the Speaker's absence (Mr. Parks was in San Francisco) it would be, to say the least, discourteous to consider the matter. A majority of the members looked at it in this light, and the resolution was referred to a committee of three, of which Hazard, of Los Angeles, was chairman. Yesterday he reported the resolution favorably, and immediately several members tried to "catch the eye" of the Speaker pro tem. for the purpose of debating the question. Jordan of course supported the resolution, but beyond an alleged remark said to have been made by Governor Stoneman predicting his course in regard to bills introduced before the organization of the Senate was completed, advanced no reason whatever in support of the resolution.

COLUMBIAN ORATORY.

But it seems this was the opening longed for by McGlashan of Nevada. He sustained the Speaker's ruling, although when he started in to hunt up the law on the case he held directly opposite views. He put me in mind of an embryo lawyer in Los Angeles who once told me he knew all about the law in a certain case because he had "spent three hours" the night before reading somebody or other on criminal jurisprudence. So it was with McGlashan. He made the astonishing announcement that he had overlooked 560 books in hunting up the matter, and as I saw him dragging an old volume of the Congressional Record around with him on Saturday afternoon, I was almost prepared for what followed. After citing a somewhat similar case wherein the names of Judah P. Benjamin, Stephen A. Douglas, Benjamin F. Wade and Jeff Davis were used, he alluded to the fact that it was somewhat singular that a deadlock should occur in the Twenty-sixth Congress and a similar one in the twenty-sixth session of the Legislature of California. Not content with citing these authorities he hurled Napoleon at the Pyramids, and then the Pyramids, added to fifty sessions of the California Legislature, at the heads of his innocent listeners. McGlashan wears a large mustache, and wonders why it is that his efforts in behalf of anything or anybody always prove futile. It can be solved in very few words: "Too much Columbian oratory." And it is always fired off at random on pointless questions. If ever a man needed to learn that silence is golden he is the man. At the present rate by the time the session draws to a close he will not be able to muster a corporal's guard in support of any measure he may introduce.

After McGlashan had finished orating Speaker Parks explained the reason for his rulings, and disposed of the story about the Governor's intentions by stating that it was at his (Parks's) suggestion that the message was withheld until the Senate had organized. Jordan's resolution was then defeated by a vote of 37 ayes to 30 noes.

CONTESTED ELECTIONS.

The contested election case of Buhlert vs. Leary, from the Fortieth Assembly District, San Francisco, was disposed of yesterday by ousting the sitting member, Leary, who is a Democrat. The Elections Committee also reported favorably in favor of T. C. Morris, of the Fifty-second (Alameda) District. Morris's seat is contested by W. B. Tyler, and the Elections Committee reported that Tyler had not complied with the law in serving notice of contest, and therefore his claim was void; but Firebaugh of San Francisco, who is a member of the committee, presented a minority report in favor of having the evidence in the case printed and laid before the House. After some wrangling and dark hints of foul play from the "Columbian orator," consideration was postponed until Wednesday at 2 o'clock. At that time Morris will be declared entitled to the seat.

ORGANIZATION OF THE SENATE.

The organization of the Senate was not finally completed until Monday, when the last of the elective officers was chosen. There have been a good many heartburnings caused by the action of the fifteen or five, and several disgusted individuals left town Saturday, vowing that the heathen Chinee was not the only individual whose ways were dark and tricks vain. Some peculiar things happened Friday night during the deadlock on officers. For instance, Senator Dougherty, on his own responsibility and without consultation, nominated George F. Tuttle for Engrossing Clerk. Tuttle was Engrossing Clerk of the Senate at the special session, but in making up the slate the Democratic caucus left his name off. Dougherty took it into his head to vote for Tuttle through a dozen ballots, thereby obstructing a choice, and was eventually rewarded by the Republicans making a break and electing his man. Somewhat similar was the election of Postmistress. Mrs. David was nominated by Senator Cross on behalf of the Readouts, Mrs. Russell by the Republicans and Mrs. Ewing, of Oakland, by the fifteen. The contest was quite spirited, a great many ballots being taken, when finally one Democratic vote was secured for Mrs. Russell and she was declared duly elected. The respective countenances of these ladies were a study during the taking of the ballots. Mrs. David could not stand the pressure, and retired to an anteroom, but Mrs. Russell sat apparently unconcerned, though evidently a trifle nervous, as the only possible way she could win was by securing a Democratic vote, and Democrats rarely, if ever, go back on their own faith in parceling out the spoils. Mrs. Ewing, the candidate of the Radicals, who, by the way, is a bleached blonde, sat next a bucolic Senator, and seemed ready to take command of her own forces, should opportunity offer. She sat erect, defiant and confident, and when the vote announcing the success of her rival was read, beyond a slight flush that mantled her cheeks for an instant, leaving two red spots behind, no one would have known that she was in the least interested. Mrs. David showed her defeat visibly, and her countenance betokened that she had set her heart upon retaining the position which she then held. But it is understood that the defeated candidates have since been provided for, and that as soon as the committees are announced they will be given clerkships, which pay $2 per day more than the office of postmistress; so in a pecuniary sense they are better off by being defeated.

THE REFORM SCHOOL BILL.

The Reform School bill introduced by Mr. Hazard has been printed and laid on the desks of members. The bill is quite lengthy, comprising 27 sections. It provides for the establishment of an institution under the name and style of "Sierra Madre School for Boys, in Los Angeles," and enacts how such institution shall be conducted, etc., and appropriates $50,000 for the establishment and support of the school for two years from May 1, 1885. It is a little too early to predict either the success or defeat of the measure, although a united effort on the part of citizens of Los Angeles and their representatives here may secure the passage of the act. It is something that is needed, and if properly conducted would save many a boy from a life of crime. Statistics prove that reformatory institutions, when properly conducted, are a great benefit to those incarcerated, and no State in the Union needs a reform school for boys and girls worse than California, and nowhere would they be brought under the double influence of climate and good example more effectually than in Los Angeles county. Let us have a reform school by all means, if we can get it.

NOTES.

There were two bills introduced yesterday, one by Colonel Edwards, of Santa Ana, which is similar to the one introduced at the session of 1883 by Mr. Head, and another by Mr. Pellet, of Napa. Mr. Edwards's bill was referred to the Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds, while Mr. Pellet's bill was referred to the Committee on State Hospitals.

The House Committee on Irrigation held a meeting last night, but transacted no business beyond electing an assistant clerk. Mr. J. De Barth Shorb was present at the meeting. MACK.

Breaking the Dead-Lock.

The Stockton Mail's Sacramento correspondent gives a graphic picture of

THE LAST SCENE.

Reddy was absent, and the gathering lost a fine exhibition of pyrotechnic oratory that would have been assured from the man of Mono had he been in at the death. Spencer of Stanislaus looked cynical, half tempted to be reproachful, and half to be indignant. Spencer of Napa knew the end was near, and his eyes flashed while he bit his lip. Del Valle was nervous, shifting uneasily in his chair, although he tried to seem composed, and his face flushed several times during the calling of the roll. Daggett seemed to try to watch every Senator in the room. He had some intimation of the approaching break soon after the caucus, and, while he is an experienced and cool politician, he was excited yesterday. Drumm of San Francisco, one of the conservatives, followed the Republican lead without delay, and was the only Democrat outside of the read-outs who broke from his caucus companions. When Knight was announced to have received thirteen votes the lobby moved and talked with nearly as much animation as though it had owned the whole fight during its two weeks of weary travail. Vrooman was paired and could not vote, but he and McClure passed word to vote for Baldwin. This had been a plan offered by them in caucus, but repeatedly rejected, and it did not gain much strength yesterday. The radicals dropped Del Valle and voted for Baldwin in hope of an accidental victory over Knight with the Senator from San Joaquin, but the great Stockton "What is it," neither Democrat nor read-out, got only thirteen votes. Four more Republicans voted for Knight, giving him a total of seventeen, and another ballot was taken with the same result.

HARD CROW TO EAT.

Before the vote was announced, Lowe of Santa Clara, who had voted for Johnson of Sonoma, arose, and every eye was turned toward him. He stated that, as a Republican, he had found it hard to vote for a Democrat, but he believed the Senate should be organized, and, as it was in his power to end the dead-lock, he would do so by changing his vote to Knight. While he talked, Daggett's face was white. When he finished Daggett's face was red with excitement, and the Lieutenant-Governor reached quickly for the tally-sheet to announce the result before there could be further changes. The result was announced; Knight was declared elected President pro tem., and the lobby and most of the Republican Senators applauded until called to order. The news spread quickly outside of the Capitol grounds, and seemed to give general relief.

Opposite Grand Opera House.

To those who are interested in gaining beautiful homes in Los Angeles and adjoining towns I wish to say that it will be a pleasure to me to give them all the information in my power. I also keep a carriage constantly on hand to show property free of all expense to THOSE WHO WISH TO INVEST.

I make a specialty of Los Angeles city and county lands, and find that I have all that I can do. I also guarantee to represent property just as it is and at its true value. Property that is brought in for me to sell, and on which fancy prices have been placed, I do not take the trouble to show to my customers, as it is throwing away my time to do so, and time is money.

I also wish to say a few words in favor of the best residence property in this city,

Boyle Heights.

It is a place where ladies and gentlemen can go out driving during this rainy weather without danger of getting stuck in the mud; a place where those in search of healthy locations for homes may select their locations at once, without having to wait six months to do so; a place where the altitude is sufficient to bar all malarial diseases, and where a boat will not be required to get to and from the street cars during the rainy season; a place where the drainage is excellent, and where one can have a splendid view of the surrounding country, enjoy the beautiful sunshine and breathe the pure air direct from the ocean; a place where residence lots may be had at this time at a very low figure, but where, in a few years from now, for the reasons mentioned above, they will command a much higher price than lots in any other part of the city the same distance out.

All persons in search of desirable locations for homes at reasonable prices, and who desire to locate in a good neighborhood where the improvements so far are first-class, will find it to their interest to thoroughly examine this fine residence property. We have all the maps and prices of all the building lots and acre tracts on the Heights and are better posted on Boyle Heights property than any agents in the city.

We also have a very large list of ranches, from 5 acres upwards, at prices that those who wish to buy cannot find fault with.

HOUSES AND LOTS: Of these we have a very fine list. We can sell you new houses, hard-finished, of 4 rooms, water piped in house, for $900 and $1000, close to horse cars, ON THE INSTALMENT PLAN.

FOR EXCHANGE: We have quite a number of ranches that we can exchange for city property.

A Paradise for Homes!

An opportunity not equaled in Southern California to secure ten or more acres of the choicest land in Los Angeles county, with water right, is now offered to the public at prices, to those desiring to improve, fully forty per cent. lower than land similarly located.

THE PHILLIPS TRACT,

Of two thousand acres, all the finest sandy loam soil. Climate unsurpassed and location specially adapted to the orange and lemon; also elegant for vineyards. The character of the soil is such that all kinds of deciduous fruits and vines grow luxuriantly without irrigation. This fine body of land must be seen to be appreciated. It is located

Five Miles from Puente Station,

On the Southern Pacific Railroad, and eight miles west of Pomona, in a lovely, healthful valley, sheltered by the lofty Sierra Madres on the north, gently sloping south and west, and entirely free from fogs and frosts. This fine body of land has recently been subdivided by the owner and placed on the market by the undersigned in at prices ranging from sixty-five to eighty dollars per acre, including ten shares of water stock with each ten acres. The terms will be made reasonable to parties purchasing and improving. There has already been twenty ten-acre lots sold. There has also been

A Town Located on the Land,

Named "COVINA," and quite a number of lots already sold. The price for lots, 60x175, at present being fifty dollars. A good school has been established on the tract. Parties desiring to see this land can be provided with conveyance from Puente Station. Broad avenues are laid out through the tract. This will undoubtedly become one of the most attractive places for homes to be found. In point of climate or soil it has no superior. For maps, prices, and full particulars, call on or address

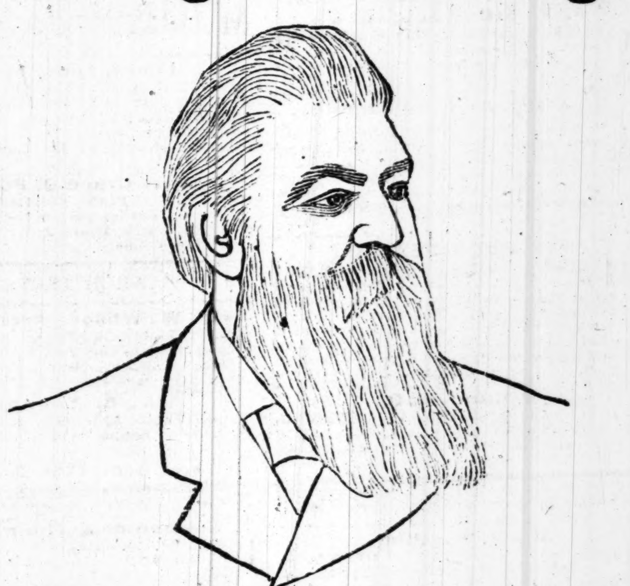
We Bring Glad Tidings!



HEALTH! HEALTH! HEALTH!

Health Restored and Life Prolonged to Suffering Humanity by the most wonderful agents ever discovered.

DR. MYERS' GALVANIC CHAIR!

Galvanism, Electro-Magnetism, and other forms of electricity are now extensively employed in the best institutions of the world with the most flattering results. The Galvanic Chair is one of my own invention. And one of the best-constructed Electro-Magnetic Apparatus in use, with every necessary appliance for the treatment of various diseases. The patient receives no unpleasant shock, but a pleasant, soothing and steady current, which invigorates the whole system throughout. The chair is so constructed that I can give Hot Air, Medicated or Vapor Baths, which cleanses the skin and opens the pores, thereby relieving congestion and assisting nature to remove impurities from the blood. It has been said that cleanliness is next to Godliness, and the pores of the skin must be kept open or sickness and early death are sure to follow. With my chair I can sweat the most delicate patients day after day, and give them strength from each application. I do away with all debilitated, oppressive sensations of heat and shock, rendering the feelings of the patient most delightful. I equalize the circulation and tone and strengthen the whole system, from the brain and spine, through all the nervous ramifications of the various vital organs. I do not debilitate my patients to promote a cure, but from the commencement invigorate them.

I have cured hundreds of cases supposed to be incurable, and with my apparatus have thrown many into ecstacies over the beneficial effects of my treatment. I have given many a neuralgic sufferer occasion to rejoice, and have caused the haggard, downcast face of the dyspeptic to light up under the exhilerating effects of a vitalizing current of electricity sent down the pneumogastric nerve to the stomach, and I have caused many a rheumatic and paralytic to run and rejoice in the restoration of painful, contracted, stiff and withered limbs, and in all diseases I cause beneficial results which are wonderful. In making electricity as a therapeutic agent, I do not rely upon it to the exclusion of every other treatment, but I do claim that if properly applied as an adjunct, with a judicious system of medication, I can produce more and speedier cures than I can with either alone. Progressive science has exploded many old theories.

INHALATION.

I have just introduced a new treatment by inhalation, by which lung diseases and catarrh are cured speedily.

I HAVE NO ONE CURE-ALL,

nor do I make a hobby of any one mode of treatment. I use electricity or medicine, or both as cases may require. I believe in proving all things and holding fast to that which is good I am aware that it is a positive fact that the majority of diseases are caused by impure blood, and the only way to promote a cure is to remove the poison and build up the system by requiring the obstructed excretory organs to do their proper duty. I find the cause, remove it, and nature, assisted by medical remedies properly applied, will promote a cure without fail.

I treat with success all diseases of the Throat, Lungs, Heart, Stomach, Liver, Head, Nerves, Kidneys, Bladder, Womb, Blood, Affections of the Urinary Organs, Gravel, Piles, Scrofula, Rheumatism, Catarrh, Bronchitis, Dyspepsia, Diseases of the Eye and Ear, etc.

TO THE LADIES.

To the ladies I would say: You whose sufferings have become intolerable, and who have suffered a thousand deaths from those diseases so common to your sex, give me a call, for I can cure you without fail, and make your lives once again worth living for. And all consultations will be strictly private and confidential.

YOUNG MEN.

To those young men who have suffered from year to year, and whose vital powers have become impaired and nervous system unstrung and broken down, and are suffering all the horrors from the effects of youthful follies, come and see me. I have a sure preventative of premature decay and early death. To those who, from indiscretion, have contracted private diseases and are desirous of being cured, come without fail, for I can guarantee you a speedy cure.

CONSULTATION FREE.

I invite the sick, no matter what their diseases may be, to call and investigate for themselves before abandoning all hope, for it will cost you nothing. I give no encouragement unless there is a fair prospect of making a cure. I will endeavor to be candid in my opinion, and reasonable in my charges. I claim not to cure everybody, but to cure all that can be cured. I am formerly from New York City, and a graduate of one of the best medical colleges in the United States, and a most thorough Electrician, and have had many years successful practice in the treatment of both acute and chronic diseases. To remove all doubts and convince my patients that I claim nothing but what I am, I refer to my diploma and the numerous recommendations in my possession, which will always be ready for inspection at my office.

I have located permanently in this city, and all I ask is that you give me a fair, unbiased trial, by which I hope to merit your confidence and give entire satisfaction to all suffering humanity. My reputation has been acquired by candid, honest dealing, and years of successful practice. I know the cause and the remedy needed, not by guess-work, but by years of experience in the treatment of various diseases.

Those unable to pay for treatment will be treated free of charge between the hours of 8 and 9 a. m. only.

☞ Consultations at my office, No. 44½ Solomon Block, South Spring street, between First and Second streets. Hours—From 9 to 12 a. m. and 1 to 5 and 6 to 8 p. m; Sundays, 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. Found on Boyle Heights.

In Los Angeles city, a place where ladies and gentlemen can go out driving during this rainy weather without danger of getting stuck in the mud; a place where those in search of healthy locations for homes may select their locations at once, without having to wait six months to do so; a place where the altitude is sufficient to bar all malarial diseases, and where a boat will not be required to get to and from the street cars during the rainy season; a place where the drainage is so complete and where one can have a splendid view of the surrounding country, enjoy the beautiful sunshine and breathe the pure air direct from the ocean; a place where residence lots may be had at this time at a very low figure, but where, in a few years from now, for the reasons mentioned above, they will command a much higher price than lots in any other part of the city the same distance out.

All persons in search of desirable locations for homes at reasonable prices, and who desire to locate in a good neighborhood where the improvements so far are first-class, will find it to their interest to thoroughly examine the residence property on the west side of Soto street, between Aliso avenue and Brooklin street known as the "Breed tract." The Boyle Heights line of street cars runs by the tract every half hour. Carriages will not be in waiting to convey parties over the tract; neither will there be a free lunch spread for them, but the streets will be found dry, the atmosphere pure, and the view from the hill such as ought to repay anyone for their trouble, whether they purchase a lot or not. The owners of these lots propose to sell them on their merits alone. Hence, no chromos will be presented to purchasers. For further information inquire at the house on the corner of Soto street and Aliso avenue. ja13 1m

Bad Break on Main Street.

A runaway on Main street yesterday about one o'clock created considerable excitement for a little while, but which quickly subsided when it was learned that but slight injury to the occupants of the vehicle was sustained. Mr. Brockway, of Pasadena, accompanied by his son, was driving a handsome span of grays on Main street, opposite Commercial street, the neck-yoke slipping, permitted the pole to fall to the ground. That frightened the horses, both of which started to run. The pole was broken close to the whiffle-trees. In front of the Los Angeles Furniture Company's store the runaways collided with two buggies, throwing Mr. Brockway to the ground and partially stunning him. Young Brockway was also thrown out but not hurt. The horses detached themselves from the vehicle and ran on toward the Plaza, where they were caught. One of them was slightly cut on the hind legs. Mr. Brockway reclined in a chair in the furniture store for a few moments and then said he was all right.

Atlantic and Pacific Officials.

President Nutt, Treasurer C. S. Tuckerman and Superintendent F. W. Smith, of the Atlantic and Pacific railroad, arrived in the city yesterday. Besides the above officials, the party consists of Mrs. Tuckerman, Mrs. S. E. Peabody, J. E. Peabody of Boston, and Leonard Everett of Council Bluffs, Iowa. These distinguished officials are visiting the city solely for pleasure. Business of their road brought President Nutt and his associates to Mojave, and being so near Los Angeles they decided to run down for a day. President Nutt, Superintendent Smith and Mr. Everett will return east this morning. The other members of the party will remain in the city for some time.

Proposed Box Factory.

Dr. George McNabb, recently from Truckee, has been in the city for a few days, during which time he has been investigating the fruit-shipping question. The result was so satisfactory that Mr. McNabb has about decided to establish a box factory here. He thinks he can supply the southern country with orange, lemon, raisin and all other kinds of fruit boxes much cheaper than they are now supplied. He will visit the various fruit sections of this and adjoining counties before any definite steps are taken towards erecting the proposed factory.

The Orphans Home.

The committee appointed to select a site for the new Orphans' Home, made several visits yesterday to localities where land has been offered free. They will in a day or two make their report to the Board of Managers, who will then decide where the new Home shall be located. As soon as the site is chosen the ladies will proceed to erect the new buildings, as far as the cash in hand will justify.

Improvement at Pasadena.

Chief Engineer Jewett of the Los Angeles and San Gabriel Railroad, is improving his residence at Pasadena by the addition of three rooms, a bay window and a tower. When the addition is completed Mr. Jewett's will be one of the handsomest little homes around Pasadena.

Immigrants.

Yesterday a car-load of immigrants arrived from the East, principally from Illinois and Iowa. All intend locating in Southern California.

INJURED INNOCENCE.

Suit for Damages Against the Chief of Police by Persons of Ill Fame.

Emboldened by many failures, from one cause or another, to convict them, some of the prostitutes and roughs arrested recently by the police are seeking to recover damages for those same acquittals. R. McPherson and Annie Burlingame are two of that notoriously low element that have instituted suit against Chief of Police McCarthy for false imprisonment. Their complaints state that their "credit, health, good name and business" were injured to the extent of $5000. The attorneys who are bringing the suits are J. C. Morgan and D. M. Adams. McPherson's good name is based on the fact that he lives with, and is supported by the notorious May Rodgers in her bagnio on Los Angeles street. The injured Mrs. Burlingame, who always gives the name of May Rodgers when arrested, will doubtless introduce the "standing witness of the gang," Short, and prove by him, as Anita Sanchez did, an unblemished reputation, until arrested by Chief McCarthy. It is disgrace enough to the city that these people are permitted to remain in the place at all, but doubly shameful that the law will permit them to annoy an officer by bringing such action. The suit ought to be thrown out of court as soon as introduced. Chief of Police McCarthy has shown a disposition, since he entered upon the duties of his office, to do what the respectable people of Los Angeles expect him to do, to wit, his duty, by breaking up houses of ill-fame, gambling dens, panel houses, and hell-holes generally. He should not be embarrassed in his laudable undertaking, but sustained throughout in every proper and legal effort he may make in this direction. Let his associates in the city government sustain him, and let the respectable portion of the community speak out in his defense. This city is not yet ready to be given over to the prostitutes, pimps, thieves and their apologists and defenders.

BENEVOLENT SOCIETY.

Social at Opera Hall—Honorary Members Please Pay Your Dues.

The social given by the Ladies' Benevolent Society last night, at Opera Hall, was attended by many of the best people of the city. The charity was a most worthy one, and deserved the liberal patronage the social received. Dancing was enjoyed by those who chose to dance, while many others passed the evening in social chat. Refreshments were provided, which added to the pleasures of the evening. This society, as is well known, has been in active operation for seven or eight years. Its aid is bestowed without regard to color, nationality or religious belief. When a case of distress is reported, the visiting committee investigates, to be sure the society is not imposed upon, and aid is never refused where real want exists. Just now the society is more heavily taxed than it has ever been, and the entertainment given last night was for the purpose of raising money for immediate use. The only regular source of revenue the society has, is that derived from annual dues. The ladies desire to remind the business men of the city, who joined last year as honorary members, that their dues will be very acceptable now. The officers of the society are: Mrs. C. Ducommun, President; Mrs. B. Chandler, Vice-President; Mrs. I. W. Hellman, Treasurer; Miss Clara Wollweber, Secretary. Board of Directors: Mrs. H. G. Bath, Mrs. H. Newmark, Mrs. J. Wheeler, Mrs. B. Hirschfeld and Mrs. S. Heilman.

AMUSEMENTS.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.—The audience which assembled at the Grand Opera House last evening was somewhat smaller than those gathered there on the first two nights of Miss Davenports engagement in this city. The falling off was probably due in part to the fact that the play of the evening Camille, is one with which most theatregoers are familiar, and also to the fact that it is one whose plot and incidents have suggestions of a nature not altogether acceptable to the fastidiously moral. The truth is that Camille, though a powerful emotional drama, is abominably trashy—to call it no worse—in its tone. There is a maudlin sentimentalism about its whole tone, and even the toughest of excitement-seekers shrink back from the emotional bathos into which the performance constantly descends. So much for the play itself. Those who witnessed it last evening saw it performed in a manner that left little to be desired in a drama of this character. Miss Davenport's assumption of the role of the wayward but self-sacrificing heroine was a really eloquent impersonation of that character. Her acting, especially in the scene where she yields to the request of "Armand's" father, was thoroughly realistic. She received, too, an admirable support from the other members of the company. Camille will be repeated to-night. On Friday and Saturday evenings The Two Orphans will be the attraction. At the Saturday matinee A Celebrated Case will be given.

Death of William W. Spencer.

Yesterday morning William W. Spencer, unmarried, and aged about twenty-five years, died of consumption at 225 South Fort street. Mr. Spencer was a printer and worked in the TIMES composing room for five months, until his health became so bad that he was compelled to give up work altogether. Prior to coming to Los Angeles he was employed for two years on the San Francisco Alta. He was not in firm health when he came to Los Angeles. He has one brother who lives in Santa Rosa, and who was in constant communication with the deceased during his long illness. Mr. Spencer was a member of the Los Angeles Typographical Union and also belonged to the order of Knights of Pythias, both of which organizations rendered him every possible attention during his illness. His many friends among the printers were also attentive to his comforts. When in health he was an industrious worker, warm-hearted and generous, and popular with his associates. When it became evident that he could not recover, he resigned himself to his fate with Christian fortitude, and as the end drew near said he was ready to go. The funeral, under the auspices of the Knights of Pythias, will take place on Friday morning.

By All Means Let Us Have Them.

There is a prospect of our having the Emma Abbott Opera Company in this city. The managers have consented to change their route east so as to include Los Angeles, provided they are guaranteed expenses for the week they would be here, and we assume that our citizens are sufficiently alive to the benefit and pleasure it would bring, were that noted company of famous artists to visit us. They are now in San Francisco filling a remarkably successful engagement of one month at the Baldwin. We can fill the Opera House here for one week for such a company as the Abbott, but as it has dates and engagements in the large Eastern cities where it is well known and appreciated, the managers will not change unless they are duly guaranteed. Subscription papers are placed at Day's music store on Spring street, Bartlett's music store, and Mr. Pratt of the company will remain here a few days and complete the negotiations, provided the subscriptions warrant him in doing so. The price of reserved seats for the season, tickets for six nights and Saturday matinee, will be $10 each.

Specials.

Hardly a day passes but that some special car arrives with prominent railway officials on board. This morning there are four such in the city, three of them occupied by railroad Presidents: President Thomas, of the Cleveland, Columbus and Cincinnati, President Cable, of the Peoria and Rock Island, and President Nutt, of the Atlantic and Pacific. The fourth special belongs to the Oregon Short Line and is occupied by Superintendent Wurtel.

A Colt Recovered.

Mr. Charles R. Hatch, of 47 Regent street, lost a valuable three-year-old colt on Monday night. The young animal broke the halter and got away. It was caught by a police-officer, and was yesterday returned to the owner.

Water Location.

Yesterday in the office of County Recorder, Jacob Stengel filed a water location on section 18, township 3 north, and range 15 west.

MILES'S PETRIFACTIONS.

The Sculptor Confesses Petrifactions Cut With a Chisel.

San Francisco Chronicle.]

"I vant to expose a fraud-a; I vant to expose a fraud-a," shouted an excitable man, rushing into the Chronicle office yesterday afternoon.

"What is the matter and what is the fraud?" asked the reporter.

"My name is Sala and I am ze maker-a of ze petrified bodies zat humbug ze people of San Francisco," said the excitable man. "I vant to tell ze trut; I vant to keel my son and to smash ze dam petrifications into a thousand pieces," he went on, his voice rising with his excitement until it was a roar.

"Well, calm yourself and tell what there is to be told," said the reporter, and Mr. Sala, after fanning himself vigorously with his hat for a few minutes, told substantially what follows:

CARVING THE FORMS.

In November last Giuseppe S. Fabricio Sala, a sculptor and mineralogist, who arrived in San Francisco in April last from New York and who opened a marble yard at 110 Golden Gate avenue, went prospecting for marble. In pursuit of his search for the stone, which on account of the difficulty and price of transportation is almost a precious stone, Sala went to Santa Barbara county, having heard that there was a marble quarry on the estate of C. H. Clark. He found the quarry at Point Sal, but did not find any marble. In its place, however, he discovered a stratum of gypsum, or alabaster, of a fine quality. A big block, six feet long by five feet thick, was taken out, and while looking at the huge mass of stone and wondering what it would be best suited for, Sala conceived the idea of carving from it two human beings—a male and a female—thinking that such forms would attract universal attention and prove a unique advertisement for California stone. A workshop was put up, and having his tools with him, Sala set to work at his carving. As the labor progressed, Sala, led by his old fancy, decided to make the figures of a peculiar build, so to speak, thinking that by this means even more attention and curiosity would be attracted to them. While the figures were growing under Sala's chisel and mallet they were seen by C. H. Clark, George Carner, a young man in Clark's employ, and Caio and Edouard Sala, the two sons of the sculptor. The bodies were finished on the 21st of December, and then, in furtherance of a still deeper scheme, they were taken out on a wagon at midnight and buried in a cañon about a mile from the quarry. Edouard Sala carried the lantern for the burial party, Carner and Caio Sala dug the grave and the others buried the bodies.

DISCOVERY OF THE REMAINS.

The next day, December 22d, Caio Sala, under the assumed name of George Hall, and Carner, presented themselves at Clark's and announced that while they were prospecting for minerals in the canyon they had discovered what looked considerably like human remains. Everybody rushed down to the canyon and there, sure enough, were two feet sticking out of the ground. Digging was at once commenced, and in about a couple of hours the "petrified remains" were resurrected. They were carefully lifted into a box packed with sand and carried to Santa Maria, a small town between San Luis Obispo and Lompoc. When they arrived at Santa Maria they were placed in a barn and exhibited to the curious at 25 cents a head. All this time Sala senior lay perdu, rather surprised at the excitement which the discovery was causing. Doubts having been expressed by some astute Santa Marian as to the genuineness of the discovery, Hall, Clark and Carnes went before Notary Public S. E. Crow and swore that, to their best belief, they were genuine remains, and that they had been found under honest circumstances. Up to that time the bodies had been styled a couple of "What-is-it's," but with the swearing the discoverers gained temerity, and affirmed under oath that, to the best of their belief they were petrified human bodies. Seeking a wider field of exhibition, the bodies were shipped to San Luis Obispo and placed in a hotel. There again crowds of curious flocked to see the wonders. At San Luis Obispo Carner was taken sick and was removed to the Santa Barbara County Hospital, transferring his interest to E. Miles, a defeated candidate for County Recorder. Miles preached San Francisco as the best place for showing the bodies, and Hall (Caio Sala) assenting, the manufactured treasure trove was boxed up and shipped to this place on the Los Angeles, arriving here on the 28th of December.

SIERRA MADRE.

IMPROVEMENTS—A PLUCKY YOUNG LADY.

Correspondence of the TIMES.]

SIERRA MADRE, Jan. 20.—Last Saturday evening a surprise party was given Mr. Renfro's family, who are shortly to move to El Monte. Like all its predecessors it was a success. There were fifty or more present, and all from this immediate neighborhood. The usual exercises in this case were varied with dancing. Mr. Renfro is an old stockman, and has rented a large dairy at El Monte, but does not leave Sierra Madre for good.

Dr. Gresham, a physician from London, has decided to settle here. He has a clear field and no rivals at present. He has purchased a few acres west of H. D. Trussell's place.

Mrs. Bensfield's house is nearly completed on Grand View avenue.

G. B. Davis will move into his house in a few days.

Mrs. Ross is building a nice six-room house on Central avenue, opposite Mr. Gregory's.

The schoolhouse is under way, and will be pushed to completion in a hurry. Swift and Williams are the contractors.

Mr. Tuttle has purchased a five-acre lot on Grand View avenue, and is now cleaning it up and will soon build upon it.

There is talk of widening Central avenue forty feet more, making it an eighty-foot avenue with a row of trees in the center.

A young lady of this place made a wager with her brother and another young man that she could grub in the brush for three hours with a mattock, and she did, too, and won her ten dollars and many congratulations besides. Now, if that was not an exhibition of genuine grit for a city-bred lady, I would like to know what is. B. B.
